A GAY WEEK IN DANVILLE

Six Days and Nights Given to Commencements.

CADETS' SHAM BATTLE

The Boys of the Danville Military Institute Gave Their Friends a Fine Spectacle Wednesday Afternoon, Finals at the R. F. C.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
DANVILLE, VA., June 6.—The past week has been very gay in Danville society. The festivities of the week opened with the commencement exercises of Randolph-Macon Institute on Monday and Tuesday nights. These exercises were very largely attended and very enjoyable. The event of Monday night was the last concert of Miss Wiplinger's class in music, and was one of the best ever given at the institute. On Tuesday night the graduating exercises were held, and were largely attended. The graduates were Misses Lucy Anderson, who read the class history; Miss Ruth Leland Evans, who read the class prophecy; and Miss Elizabeth Tunstall White, who read the class will. The address to the graduates was made by Rev. James A. Duncan, D. D., a member of the faculty of Randolph-Macon College, at Ashland.

A SHAM BATTLE.
On Wednesday afternoon and evening the finals of the Danville Military Institute were held and were very enjoyable. The exercises at the institute consisted of a sham battle by the cadets, which was a fine spectacle. After the battle the exercises were conducted in the Pavilion on the campus, and consisted of the delivery of medals and distinctions and the address to the graduating class by Hon. Eugene Withers, a concert by the D. M. I. band and an exhibition drill by the cadets.

Diplomas were delivered to the following graduates: M. M. Herman, Danville; George Barrow, Danville; Hannon Schoolfield, Danville; T. Jeff Rison, Danville; and F. E. Varner, Texas.

Built into the front of the institute building is a large marble slab, and the best all-round cadet each year has his name engraved on this slab. The honor this year, which is one of the most coveted of all those conferred by the institute, was won by Cadet George Barrow, of this city.

THE FINAL BALL.
The final ball at the Municipal Hall on Wednesday night was one of the most brilliant in the history of the institution. The hall was beautifully decorated with the colors of the institute and the stage was arranged to represent a military camp. There were between fifty and sixty couples present, including a number of visitors, and dancing did not stop until nearly 4 A. M. It was the verdict of every one that the D. M. I. final ball was one of the most brilliant events of the social season.

Last night the commencement exercises of Roanoke Female College began with the final concert. This was followed by the art exhibit and a reception to-day. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning by Rev. J. Cleveland Hall, and the commencement exercises will be held at the First Baptist Church Monday night.

SOCIAL MATTERS.
Miss Mary Drewry, a charming young lady of Richmond, is in the city, the guest of Miss Mary Gravelly.

Miss Annita Penn, of Raleigh, is visiting Miss Kathryn Ross Patton at her beautiful home, on Jefferson Street.

One of the most pleasant little social affairs of the week was the "at home," given by Mr. J. Williams White, at the home of his parents, on Holbrook Avenue, Friday night. There were nearly fifty guests present and the evening was given over to cards and other amusements. Delightful refreshments were served.

Miss Helen Jones, of Chicago, and Miss Stella Bell, of Wakefield, Va., are the guests of Miss Mary Simpson on Main Street.

Misses Mabel Lyon, Alice Bassett and Louise Walt are the guests of Miss Beulah Ponton, at her home, on Wilson Street.
